BBM on the Zine

July!!!!!! The first half of the year is now behind us. As we reflect back on the year so far, let us recognize those opportunities and blessings that came our way. Some we may have stepped into, and some we may have let slip. Nonetheless, history is something to learn from. I believe the rest of the year will be better than the beginning. So, enjoy your vacations! Stay cool. Relax! Go watch a poorly made, big budget, blockbuster film (haha). Be careful with fireworks. And don't forget to celebrate and be thankful for this country that we live in and the freedom we have that so many men and women have fought to keep!

God Bless America

Big Money Scavenger Hunt!!

This month the stakes are raised. The trivia is tougher and a little educational. In the end, You could find yourself with an extra $100 in your hand!!! Just take a moment and review the question. This first time around, I have broken them into three categories: Office question, warehouse question, and driver question. All you have to do is answer the question that your job description fits into (ex. Office People only answer the office question, so on and so forth) Then, if you answer correctly, you will receive a word and another clue that will need to be answered. You will receive 4 sets of clues and words or phrases over the next three weeks. Hold onto the words, they will fit together in the end.

Rules:

- 1) You can solve it by yourself or you can recruit help and split the $100. It's up to you.
- 2) Everybody is eligible!!!! If you have won the trivia before, you are back in this time.
- 3) Even if somebody else gets the clue before you, don't stop. The game doesn't end until someone gives me the final answer and puts the words in the correct order.

Scavenger Hunt Clues

Office employees: I was asked once by a customer to find the panel that is shown on the following screen. I had never seen such a beast. I finally tracked it down. What is the name of the panel? Where can I get it? How far apart are the ribs spaced?

Warehouse employees: We carry a product that may not be popular in some circles but others may believe firmly in it. Some might even call it “magic.” This product is brought to you by the letters C & R. Take a picture of it with your cell and send it to my e-mail address, josh@bestbuymetals.com. Please include your name. I’ll send you back the next clue.

Drivers: According to the FMCSA, commercial drivers with CDL licenses are required to not only pass a written and driving test, but also carry one of these with them. What is it called? How long is it good for? What if you have a history of hypertension? E-mail me your name and answer and I’ll send you the next clue.

What panel is this????
